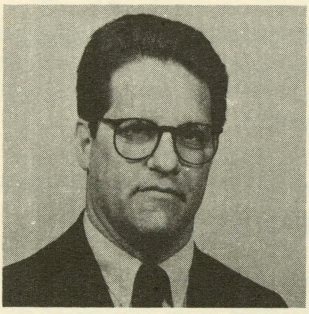
HEAD COACH CHARLES HOFFMAN



Charlie Hoffman, Maryland class of 1972, begins his 10th season as head coach of a much improved team. Stronger recruiting efforts over recent years have resulted in freshmen classes of unprecedented quality making the Terps a growing force in the Atlantic Coast Conference. This season, Hoffman will welcome the best group of freshmen he has ever recruited.

Coach Hoffman attracts capable student-athletes because of a balanced philosophy that stresses the importance of swimming in conjunction with academic success. This is attested by the fact that over half of Coach Hoffman's team last season maintained a 3.0 G.P.A. or better. Swimmers and parents alike have responded to this approach with great enthusiasm.

A former Terrapin swimmer, Coach Hoffman replaced his coach at Maryland, Bill Campbell, in 1976. He has continued the winning tradition by extending the consecutive winning season's streak to 28. He received a Master's degree in Physical Education from Maryland in 1976. Both he and his wife Linda are natives of Perkasie, Pennsylvania.

FACILITIES

The University of Maryland offers to its swimmers a 25-yard, six-lane pool with separate warm-up area, located in Cole Field House. Swimmers utilize a complete Keiser, Nautilus and free weight-training facility on campus. Maryland also has complete training and sports medicine centers. For diving, there are 2 one-meter and 1 three-meter boards. Divers also utilize the White Oak Swim Center which features a five-meter tower.

MIKE TOBER
Diving Coach — 4th Season

Since Mike Tober came to Maryland, Terp diving has become competitive with the ACC's best, and the 1985-86 diving team is the most talented yet. It is a tribute to his efforts, that Maryland divers are again capable of challenging for conference titles.

Tober graduated from N.C. State, where he earned All-American status and was five-time ACC champion. He spent two years as diving coach at Virginia Tech before coming to Maryland. His national and international experiences as a competitor should greatly benefit the Terrapin divers.

KIRK SANOCKI
Assistant Coach — 2nd Season

Former Terp All-American, Kirk Sanocki returns for his second season as assistant swimming coach. Sanocki complements Coach Hoffman with fiery enthusiasm that made him 5 time ACC breaststroke champion and earned him a top 5 world ranking in 1984 for the 200 meter short course breaststroke. Along with his poolside duties, Sanocki is the Terps recruiting coordinator and shares weight training supervision with Coach Hoffman. His pool coaching responsibilities are with the strokers.

JIM WENHOLD
Assistant Coach — 2nd Season

A graduate student in the physical education department, Jim Wenhold starts his second season as assistant coach. A former sprint standout for the Terps, Wenhold holds the 100 freestyle and 100 backstroke team records. His coaching responsibilities are with the sprinters along with handling all administrative and academic matters with the team. Wenhold is also a native of Perkasie, PA.

SEAN REDMOND
Student Assistant Coach — 6th Season

This season, Sean Redmond will take on more coaching responsibilities for the ever growing Terrapin team. Redmond works closely with the Maryland training staff and coordinates all medical and rehabilitation programs for the swimmers. Redmond has put in a great deal of time and effort for Maryland swimming, and the program is a stronger one because of his commitment.

T COACHES

SHAWN CAREY
Manager — 1st Season

Shawn Carey joins the Terrapin staff for his first year. His responsibilities are with equipment, and meet coordinator. An enthusiastic individual, Carey is a welcomed addition to the program.

1985-86 PREVIEW
MEN

The Maryland men's team is coming off their best conference meet in ten years. Last year's squad recorded 31 lifetime best swims out of 33 possible events. Joe Haddon is the only swimmer from the 1985 squad that does not return to this year's team. The Terps greatly improved their depth in all events and should be a major factor at ACC's.

Sprint freestyle will be handled by Mike Kelly and high school All American Rich Foster from Chicago. Kelly was a finalist in both the 100 and 50 along with Paul Schimmel and Jeff Irwin who will add much needed depth to these events. Middle distance and distance freestyle will be the Terps strength. Four ACC finalists return in the 500. Dan Krewson, Robert Guenther, Mike Raue and Schimmel will be challenged by freshman distance ace, Brian Park. Last year the Terps placed more swimmers in the 500 than any other team in the ACC. Backstroke will be much improved with the addition of high school All-American, Mike Lambert and Sean McCall. Simon Witton returns as a finalist in the 200. Breaststroke has always been the Terps strongest event and this year should not be different. Three top eight finalists return in the 100. Led by NCAA qualifier, Todd Gray, the Terps will continue to dominate with Peter Burton and David Detweiler. In the IM events, Lambert should be near the top of the conference. Butterfly returns two finalists with Krewson and Guenther leading the way. Detweiler and Schimmel will add much needed depth in the 100. Diving is the most improved event for the Terrapins. Janaka Biyanwila, a transfer from Oklahoma and Ben Dasher will both challenge returning finalist Marty Bare for top honors.

Overall, the Terps have a chance to re-emerge as a top swimming power in the East.

1985-86 PREVIEW
WOMEN

The women's team is gradually gaining ground on the rest of the ACC with quality swimmers while slowly adding depth to make them more competitive.

The Terps will be led by junior All American, Patty Corson in the backstroke. Corson is the first lady Terp to make All American status in the history of women's swimming. Sprint freestyle will be handled by hard working freshmen Michelle Heary who has potential for greatness and Brooke Moore, a versatile transfer from Clemson University. Moore and Heary should challenge each other for the top spot in the sprint freestyle events. Middle distance and distance freestyle should be an outstanding event for the Terrapins. Freshmen, Diane Humes and Laurie Hug both have national experience with Hug being a returning ACC finalist. Butterfly events will see NCAA qualifier Kim Peifley and Humes. Moore should add depth in the sprint fly. Breaststroke is a questionable event. Freshman Kathy Waggoner has great potential and could end up being the Terps number one breaststroker. Beth Spector, an NCAA qualifier, transferred to Maryland from N.C. State and must sit out this season. The Terps will lack depth in the IM events but Hug returns as ACC finalist in both the 200 and 400 events. Diving will be much improved with freshman Melissa Martley along with returning finalists Courtenay Carr and Alisa Blitz.
